Thomas Balch Library ADVISORY COMMISSION

Mike Sanders

The Loudoun History Awards are sponsored by Thomas Balch Library Advisory Commission. They were established to recognize contributions of local historian, John Elbert Divine (1911-1996), in preserving Loudoun County history. Divine was recognized nationally for his knowledge and understanding of the Civil War and regionally for his willingness to share historical information with others. He authored two books in the Virginia Regimental Series on the Civil War: The 8th Virginia Infantry and The 35th Battalion Virginia Cavalry. He also edited To Talk is Treason, an account of Waterford during the Civil War, and co-authored Loudoun County in the Civil War. In addition, he co-founded Loudoun County Historical Society.

Loudoun History Awards highlight diverse aspects of the county's history. They honor individuals who have made significant contributions to preserving Loudoun's past through collection of county documents and memorabilia, preservation of historic landmarks, visual arts, writing and long-term involvement in local history organizations. Presented annually since 1993, except in 2000 when renovation of Thomas Balch Library prevented the event, these awards have recognized some of Loudoun County's best known historians, writers, preservationists, and conservationists.

How to nominate:

Letters of nomination should include a brief statement in support of the individual's accomplishments, their mailing address, and be directed to:
